

I AM HANNAH - MONOLOGUE

I dunno, I guess I don't see the point in being in a relationship for the sake of it.

I mean what's the point.

What's the point in being with someone that isn't right just because you're scared of being alone.

I would rather be on my own than be with someone who isn't right.

And I see so many women and so many people that have panicked and settled for like the next guy, like he's right, and I've gotta have kids.

And I just, I don't wanna be that person.

I want something more, I do.

And you know what my biggest fear is , my biggest fear is that I'm getting it wrong.

Maybe my mum's right, I'm gonna wake up and it's gonna be too late and I'm gonna realise too late that that is what i want. That is what I want.

And i've fucked it up.

I'm terrified of fucking it up.

Its fucking ridiculous actually.

Its so fucking unfair , so fucking unfair that we have to even think about this right now. Guys can decide to have kids when their 50 , it's not an issue but the moment we hit 35, it's like you've gotta decide now or it's gonna be too late

And what we've been told from our teenage years to our 20s , it's like the worst thing that can happen to get pregnant and your life will be over right. That's what we're told. Its drilled into us from such a young age and then suddenly it switches from dont get pregnant to you better fucking get pregnant or you've missed your chance, and literally that change happens in like 5 years in your 30's , and it's like wtf.

So now in the tiny space of time I'm meant to find the guy , the perfect guy, the guy who I'm supposed to spend the rest of my life with and do that and get everything done.

I think its crazy, its fucking insane.

And i dont wanna buy into any of that crap but at the same time i'm still obviously bothered by all this crap.
